

Bluffton University Church Matching Scholarship Program

Bluffton University will match dollar for dollar the first $1,000 provided by any Christian church congregation. Beyond that amount, Bluffton will match $1 for every $4 from the congregation, up to full tuition. The congregation must provide a minimum award of $100 before the university will contribute matching funds. The university will match contributions regardless of financial need. Federal regulations prescribe rules for packaging aid. When church matching funds are submitted after initial aid has been sent to the student, the financial aid office may be required to revise a student's financial aid offer.

NOTE: This paper form can be completed and submitted via regular mail or email.

Name of congregation City State makes known its intent to participate in Bluffton University's Church Matching Scholarship program. In signing below, the congregation acknowledges:

1. that the scholarship program has been formally approved by the church;
2. that the program meets Internal Revenue Service guidelines for charitable contributions. According to the IRS, gifts qualify for a charitable contribution if they are "made to a qualified organization and not set aside for use by a specific person." Parents who contribute to this program through the church and direct their gift to their child's scholarship will not meet the requirements for a charitable contribution.
3. that the church will submit annually to Bluffton a list of students supported by the church and the amount of funds awarded to each student.

Please list the name of each student and his/her anticipated award for the academic year and return by March 1. It is understood that the amount(s) may change. When actual awards are finalized, the financial aid office should be notified by July 1 and if applicable, an amended form submitted. Please note that if any unanticipated funds are received after August 1, the monies will not be matched by the university. We ask that contributions be sent in two equal payments, by Aug. 15 for fall semester, and by Dec. 15 for spring semester.
